

Gradient of model output with respect to the greyscale input of the true residual plot

Outline of the non-linear shape is captured by the computer vision model